Despite Hard Times MSI Mechanical Gives Back to the Community

LAWRENCE, MA – Three Merrimack Valley Habitat for Humanity families had their new homes blessed recently. The Habitat build site on Market Street was devastated by fire more than a year ago. Merrimack Valley Habitat for Humanity staff, board of directors, volunteers, and supporters were committed to rebuilding these homes as quickly as possible. MSI Mechanical Systems of Salem, NH, helped Merrimack Valley Habitat rebuild their Market Street site by providing a brand new HVAC system for two (2) of the homes. Brian Hooper, vice president of operations, included all installation services for free. This donation was valued at more than $22,000.00. “Even in these tough economic times, MSI Mechanical Systems of Salem, NH, recognizes the great need in their community and should be applauded for their generous contribution,” said Larry Sharp, Habitat executive director. MSI’s Vice President, Brian Hooper, presented Merrimack Valley Habitat for Humanity with a check representing the donation valued at $22,157.92. “We all need to give back especially now during these tough economic times,” says Hooper.
